

PERISOLV DENTAL PRODUCT ADDED TO THE ARTG

BTC health (ASX: BTC) announced today its wholly owned investment company BTC Speciality Health Pty Ltd has received confirmation of the inclusion to the Australian Register of Therapeutic Goods (ARTG) for its product Perisolv System (Perisolv). It is anticipated that the product will be made available in Australia during the current financial year.

Perisolv is a patented, biochemically active gel that optimizes the dental professional's treatment of periodontitis, mucositis and peri-implantitis. The gel is CE approved and when applied directly to the periodontal pocket it exerts a bacteriostatic effect and aids in dissolving degenerated tissue making the debridement easier for both dental professionals and patients. <http://perisolv.com/en>

BTC health Executive Chairman Dr. Richard Treagus commented; "We are excited to receive the registration of Perisolv, which is the second of three unique products licensed from RLS Global AB. We can now look forward to making this novel product available to patients within Australia in the coming months."
